1. What was the best aspect of the course?

What was the best aspect of the course?

the labs and the time with the teachers to discuss tasks and questions

The small class sizes and in depth knowledge of the professors. Problem solving classes were super helpful!

2. What improvements would you suggest in the course?

What improvements would you suggest in the course?

tire the exercises and the exam closer together, taking the amount of time and the task in the exam it was not evenly distributed

Certain lectures were not as engaging as they could have been including ones on the physics/dynamics of airborne particles, aerosol generation processes and Electric properties of airborne particles. There was a lot of just showing equations instead of understanding the workings and why they are necessary

3. What advice would you like to give to future course participants?

What advice would you like to give to future course participants?

read the book and do not spend so much time on the math tasks

Keep up-to-date with the course, do all the readings and questions before the lectures

With no prior knowledge I think it was hard to pass the exam or feeling comfortable with the topics in the lectures

It might have been nice to carry out the field measurements at the start of the course. Also, the sea spray lab could've been done straight after the size distribution lecture as an exercise in  $dN/d\log D_p$  graphs - the lab overlapped a bit with revision time for the exam.

The particle counters are incremental - good to remember
